KEWPIES REIGN AT FAREWELL PARTY

(From Sunday's Daily.)

The home of Mrs. Amy Hill, at 208 Park avenue was the scene of a tumultuous merry-making yesterday afternoon when Louise Hill entertained with an "au revoir" party in honor of her classmate, Juanita Morrison.

"A welcome you'll find on the 12th of June, 2:30 the hour be sure and come soon, 'Babe,' my old classmate, with smile and voice sweet will be there to greet you glad hand and both feet."

Thus ran the invitations which were safely carried to the guests by the tiny kewpies who smiled invitingly in the corner of each card. The guests were called upon to display their skill at making button holes, blind-folded, for which feat, Mary Richards captured the prize, a kewpie pin cushion.

As a special feature the guests were each given a stick of gum and were allowed to enjoy the tempting flavors of it for four or five minutes, after which they were obliged to fashion strange animals on white cards. A mouse modeled by Florence Duncan and a black cat by Melita Meade were voted the best, and the young ladies cut for the prize, Miss Meade being the winner of a smiling kewpie.

Later in the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. The color scheme for decoration was carried out in green and white, the colors of the class of '15. The centerpiece was a lovely kewpie attired in a college cap and gown. The favors were tiny kewpies and the place-cards were hand-painted kewpies in college caps and gowns.

Those who enjoyed Miss Hill's hospitality were: the Misses Florence Duncan, Emma Denny, Melita Meade, Eleanor Meade, Juanita Morrison, Millie Marks, Marjorie Milnes, Mary Richards, Anna Lou Richards, Helen Reibling and Muriel Tucker.

FITTING TRIBUTE IS PAID STARS AND STRIPES

ELKS' CELEBRATION IS ONE THAT WILL LONG BE REMEMBERED IN MILE HIGH CITY.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Patriotism ran high when Prescott Lodge No. 330 B. R. O. Elks celebrated Flag Day with very appropriate exercises yesterday afternoon at the Elks' theatre. All of local Elksdom, besides many outsiders were present and the program will long be remembered as one of the most fitting tributes to old glory ever given in this city. The stars and stripes literally covered the inside of the theatre and the stage was also decorated in this fashion, making a splendid background for the events of the day.

Featuring the occasion was the Elks' altar services for absent members, especially arranged for Flag Day exercises. A floral liberty bell which supposedly struck the mystic hour of 11, an Elk ceremony, was formed with wreaths of red roses, white lilies and blue violets and was topped with a bar covered with stars representing the states of the union.

The ceremonies were opened by the Prescott Band with the stirring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

"Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," under the leadership of Miss Mabel Barnard, was sung by the students of the Lincoln school, the voices of the cute little kiddos in the front row harmonizing with those of the oldest pupils in the rear, flags being kept waving throughout the song.

With the officers of the Elks' on the stage and Exalted Ruler P. J. Farley presiding, the introductory exercises of the order were given, each officer expressing his esteem for the flag and its meaning to their organization.

An inspiring and forceful recitation of the poem, "The Name of Old Glory" by James Whitcomb Riley was given by Mrs. H. T. Southworth. During intermissions the Prescott Band played patriotic selections which brought home the meaning of the flag to every loyal citizen present.

Other music on the program included the song, "The Flag of Our Native Land," by the students of St. Joseph's Academy with the stars and stripes in the hands of the smaller children waving to the tune of the anthem, and an excellent solo by N. C. Suman. He sang "The Star Spangled Banner" with Mrs. Eugene Neuman acting as accompanist.

Costumed in dainty dresses of red, white and blue, two little misses, Layle and Eleanor Stephens gave a recitation in honor of old glory.

The history of the national emblem from the time of the first of the colonies in 1620 to 1775, when the stars and stripes with the circle of stars in the field of blue were first made by Betsy Ross, to the flag of today with its 48 stars, was read by E. A. McSwiggan, chaplain of the local lodge. Forming a giant flag on the stage, the pupils of Washington school assisted in the exercises by giving the flag salute. Some of the children wore red caps, others blue and others white, and were arranged into the form of the national emblem.

E. S. Clark gave an interesting ad-

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good."

EXPRESS COPPER MINES BEGIN SHIPPING

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Charles Fleming, who with J. J. Davis, is operating the well known Express group of copper mines in Cunningham pass, west of Congress Junction, was an arrival a few days ago from his camp and stated shipping had been inaugurated. The first carload has been marketed at El Paso, another is on the dump that will go to Hayden smelters, and regular shipments are to follow in the future.

Mr. Fleming states the Express is making its first production so far as smelting markets are to be considered, in nearly eight years, during which time a large line of development has been carried out. The ore reserves now insure a vast tonnage. In past years, no work has been performed during the summer, but this method has been set aside this year and a permanent camp will be maintained, the owners being desirous to reap any benefits by shipping out and by keeping up development in the deeper workings.
